1.	P1 LACA, Martin Kriminalistická taktika [print, elektronický dokument] / aut. Martin Laca, rec. Jaroslav Ivor, rec. Marcela Tittlová, rec. Jozef Medelský. - 1. vyd. - Praha : Wolters Kluwer ČR, 2024. - 226 s. - ISBN 978-80-286-0046-4. - ISBN 978-80-286-0047-1. [LACA, Martin (100%)] The textbook Criminalistic Tactics is designed as an essential resource for students of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava, law faculties, and professionals working in the field of criminology. The publication focuses on criminalistic-tactical recommendations that are crucial for the effective resolution and clarification of criminal activity, especially in an era when crime is becoming increasingly sophisticated. The content of the textbook provides a systematic overview of the methods and procedures used in modern investigations. It emphasizes the interdisciplinary nature of criminalistic tactics, which incorporates knowledge from law, psychology, criminology, and modern technologies. The textbook offers theoretical foundations and practical guidance for the effective application of tactics, with particular emphasis on the use of specialized interview rooms and innovative technologies in the investigation process. It enables readers to understand the fundamental principles of criminalistic tactics and their application in practice, thereby contributing to the expansion of their professional knowledge and skills. The textbook focuses not only on theoretical knowledge but also on practical experience, including the use of modern technologies in investigations, making it an invaluable tool for professional growth in the fight against crime. According to the criteria of the Scientific Council of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava, which determine the segmentation of academic outputs, this textbook is classified as being published by a renowned foreign publisher; therefore, the author has classified this output in category A+.

In terms of content, the work is divided into two levels, gnoseological and empirical. The gnoseological part deals with interrogation and confrontation from the point of view of criminalistic-tactical elaboration, especially the preparation and tactics of conducting interrogation and confrontation, on the contrary, the empirical part deals exclusively with confrontation as a criminalistic method. The processed monograph is the result of bridging theoretical and practical knowledge from applied practice. The work is intended for investigators, authorized members, prosecutors, as well as the general public, which is interested in the issue. According to the criteria of the Scientific Council of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava determining the segmentation of outputs, this is a scientific monograph that has objective significance in several countries not only in the same region, which is why the author dared to classify this output in category A +.

Irena Malinowska, rec. Jerzy Kasprzak. - 1. vyd. - Varšava : Wolters Kluwer Polska, 2025. - ISBN 978-83-8390-928-8. - S. 289-298. Sign.: F 21657 [LACA, Martin (100%)] The chapter in the scientific monograph focuses on interrogation as a criminalistic-tactical process, with emphasis on the importance of verbal and non-verbal communication in obtaining information during criminal proceedings. Attention is devoted to the observation and interpretation of the non-verbal behaviour of the interviewed person, its relationship to the content of the questions asked, and the possibilities of its use in the development of investigative versions. The theoretical foundations are supplemented by a case study analysis of an interrogation conducted in a real criminal case in the field of illegal migration. The presented findings were developed on the basis of knowledge obtained through a scientific research project carried out at the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava under project number Výsk. 247. According to the criteria of the Scientific Council of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava determining the segmentation of outputs, this work represents a chapter in a scientific monograph that has objective significance in several countries, not only within the same region; therefore, the author has classified this output in category A+.

Martin Laca. In: Kriminalistika ir teismo ekspertologija: mokslas, studijos, praktika [print] : recenzuojamu mokslinių straipsnių rinkinys : a collection of peer-reviewed scientific articles / zost. Gabriele Juodkaite-Granskiene, rec. Jerzy Kasprzak, rec. Pranas Kuconis. - Brno : Masarykova univerzita, 2023. - ISSN 2783-7068. - S. 123-129. [LACA, Martin (100%)] The scientific study is one of the outputs of the international scientific research task conducted at the Academy of the Police Force under the number Výsk 247. In the scientific study, the author describes the theoretical development of reconstruction preparation in application practice, which he then bridges with the knowledge of non-verbal communication. With individual types of reconstruction, it is possible to evaluate and analyze manifestations of non-verbal communication that can contribute to the fulfillment of the goal of reconstruction. According to the criteria of the Scientific Council of the Police Academy in Bratislava determining the segmentation of outputs, this is a scientific study based on the international scientific research task "Confrontation in criminalistic theory and practice", which has a benefit for application practice and therefore the author allowed himself to classify the scientific study in category A -.
